Economic mobility is the throughline of my career: who gets access to opportunity and what it takes to change that at scale. I turn early-stage ideas into national programs, funds, and networks while leveraging technology to accelerate outcomes and broaden access. Most recently, I co-created Claude Corps, the national AI fellowship built with Anthropic, and the Knowledge Network, a cross-sector consortium of funders, AI labs, workforce development leaders, and researchers. Earlier founding work includes the Rise Fellowship, a $350M portfolio at Comic Relief US, a Youth Advisory Council, and the Juntanza Fund. My leadership style is collaborative and adaptive: I build high-trust teams, empower individuals to take ownership, and provide clear vision even through ambiguity. I create structure where none exists, deliver measurable outcomes, and design programs to be handed off and scaled.
